Who Should Attend

Individuals responsible for emergency response and recovery.

During the past few months, you and members of your organization have been involved in developing Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP). As you continue to refine your planning, a Table Top Exercise has been scheduled to test how your plan would perform in an emergency at OUR PLACE.

WHAT IS A TTX?

A table top exercise (often referred to as TTX) is a training tool that simulates emergency situations in an informal environment. Our facilitators, Galena Property Services, will guide the exercise participants through a dangerous scenario from the safety of a conference room to practice their response strategies.

Table Top Exercises are an integral part of proper emergency preparedness. These opportunities allow your department team members to get familiar with their responsibilities and with the procedures and processes that may save their lives and the lives of others.

The TTX is a low risk and low stress way to ensure that your response plans are complete and effective and your team knows exactly how to execute them.

Facilitation by Dr. Gayle Sherman and Ron Percivalle of Galena Property Services.
